

European Congress of Local Governments, 5th Edition 8-9 April 2019, Krakow

Contemporary Local Government - Tasks and Challenges

Independent self-government is the basis for a well-functioning state. It is to serve the residents and implement investments improving the quality of local life. Local governments also carry out the objectives entrusted to them by the state. What is the cooperation on the line of government and local administration? Does it run smoothly or are there areas that can be improved? What measures should be taken to improve cooperation between sovereignty and local government?
