Ambassador Marek Szczygiel: Poland, an important actor in the European Union

Poland's integration in the European Union represented a total success, it being an important actor in the Union, with a great influence in decision-making, said on Wednesday Poland's ambassador in Bucharest Marek Szczygiel, on the occasion of the conference 'Ten years after EU accession. Lessons to be learned', organized by the European Institute in Romania and the Embassy of the Polish Republic.

'Ten years ago, from a member state Poland became an important actor in the EU, wielding influence upon decisions taken at a European level. We are glad that in those years Poland proved that it was not only a large European state, but also an important member of the European family and that we can bring a valuable contribution to this joint project', said ambassador Marek Szczygiel.

According to him, Poland's fast economic growth wouldn't have been possible if Polish companies could not enter the European common market.

The Polish ambassador also showed that recent events demonstrate the need for a constant zone of stability in the vicinity of the European Union. He mentioned that the current crisis has proven that the energy sector is becoming a key element in cooperation with Poland's neighbors, providing as an example the situation in Ukraine that proves the urgent necessity of continuing work for the consolidation of energy security in the region and in the EU altogether.

Not least, in what regards continuing consolidation of Polish-Romanian relations, the ambassador believes that the strategic partnership is not only a privilege but also a commitment. He expressed his hope that cooperation in European Fund absorption, economic matters - Poland being the 5th largest importer of Romanian goods - and also in the non-governmental sector.

The head of the European Commission's Representation in Romania Angela Filote has emphasized that nothing of what was accomplished up to now in the EU must be considered as a given, questions regarding peace and stability springing up, both from the perspective of the situation in Ukraine and of the crisis that has taken away so much of the prosperity of European citizens.

The former European Commissioner Leonard Orban, currently President of the European Institute in Romania's Administration Council, said, in his turn, that Poland's integration is truly a success story. He also stated that the Cooperation and Verification Mechanism, which was only introduced for Romania and Bulgaria, should, in a modernization process of the EU, be available for introduction in another formula at the level of all member states.

Conferința “ Polonia: 10 ani de la aderarea la UE. Lecții pentru viitor”

Institutul European din România (IER), în parteneriat cu Ambasada Republicii Polone, organizează, în data de 21 mai 2014, o conferință ocazionată de împlinirea a zece ani de la aderarea Republicii Polone la Uniunea Europeană. La eveniment vor participa reprezentanții ai administrației publice centrale, ai comisiilor parlamentare de specialitate, precum și reprezentanți ai mediului diplomatic, academic și de cercetare, societății civile, mass-mediei etc.

Context: Aderarea Republicii Polone la Uniunea Europeană, în 2014, s-a dovedit a fi o “poveste de succes” atât din punct de vedere economic, cât și politic. Polonia a demonstrat, în ultimii zece ani, că este un actor important al UE, o voce distinctă în cadrul mecanismului de luare a deciziilor la nivel comunitar. Având în vedere experiența și bunele practici ale Poloniei în cadrul UE, precum și relațiile de parteneriat dintre această țară și România, conferința își propune identificarea domeniilor ce prezintă avantaje comparative, dar și a zonelor sensibile în care ambele țări pot aduce valoare adăugată, contribuind astfel la consolidarea Uniunii Europene.
